

Leo Weidner

Biography

Professional Information

Leo Albert Weidner

Life Balance Coach in Self-improvement industry

Website: leoweidner.com
coachleo@bigplant.com

Email:

Business Telephone#: 801-226-7201

Fax#: 801-805-6823

3700 Little Rock Drive

Provo, UT 84604

University/Degree: B.S. in Business Management and Economics, BYU

Affiliations: LDS Church, leader in genealogy, youth organizations

Expertise: Leo started in the self-improvement business in 1966 with Napoleon Hill, where he worked with and was personally taught by this father of the self-improvement business. He started calling himself a coach (one of the first to do so) in 1985 and has coached well over 2000 men and women, mostly over the phone, on how to be more productive and balanced in their business and personal lives.

Awards: Greatest (re) award are the comments from his clients when they tell him that what he has shared with them and taught them has changed their lives.

Published Works: Wrote two successful motivational books called The Slight Edge: getting from average to advantage, 2008, and Achieving The Balance, 1998, and a new book coming this year, Teaching Husbands How to Develop a Loving Relationship with Their Wives & Vice Versa.

Public Speaking: Motivational speaker and trainer. He has done many seminars and conventions. He was a top trainer and producer for Success Motivation Institute (SMI) in Waco, Texas. He is the founder and past president of the Mountain West Chapter of National Speakers Association (NSA)

Keys to Success: He loves helping his clients become more productive and developing a closer relationship with their spouses, family, friends and clients.

Leo is an expert in human behavior and motivational speaking. He prides himself in one -on-one training of his students. He helps instill in them a creative nature and spontaneous excitement in order to achieve meaningful relationships along with their sales goal or career desires. Leo believes that self-confidence, without being cocky, is a most important tool. He believes in a strong work ethic and moral foundation. His passion for life is highly contagious and he can stimulate any crowd

Hobbies: Being with sweetheart wife, serving in church responsibilities and keeping his neighborhood trees and groves in top shape.